CONSTRUCTION SITE

Originally, the dental unit was designed as a separate building, but due to the uneven nature of the landscape, it was redesigned to form the basement of the operating suite. The operating theatre will be erected on top of the dental facility. The new design jumped the cost to $208,687.50 while the upper level (OR) went up to $185,937. The building has 2 operating rooms, 3 class rooms, one workshop, a waiting room, short stay, 2 consultation rooms, sterilization room and store room. According to plan, the unit will be used for training of dental technicians and for provision of myriad of dental services. We are very appreciative to you and your congregation for the support of $100,000 that is helping to carry the project forward; we still need your support to complete this important wing of the hospital.

I have also attached photos of other units completed as well as under construction for your information. Please feel free to contact me if you need further information.

Thanks.
