From: Lay Director Girls' #48

"It's interesting how God works. Chrysalis has been part of my life for almost 10 years, and I can't imagine a life without it. I accepted Christ as my personal savior during my Chrysalis walk so many years ago, and am amazed that God has transformed me from a shy and insecure teenager to a Lay Director.

Don't get me wrong – I can say with great confidence, only because now I am one, that Lay Directors don't have super powers and are no more holy than anyone else. In my case, I recognize how imperfect and unworthy I am to serve in such a role. Isn't it amazing, though, that God doesn't notice? In God's eyes, He saw the insecure teenage girl the same as He sees this increasingly confident woman – as His lovely and perfect creation. Talk about super power.

God has challenged me throughout the years to serve on my first team, give the Single Life talk, give it again, and...give it again (Got it, God – still single). It is an honor to be challenged and trusted to serve in a new role on a Chrysalis Flight. God has pulled together the perfect team and is preparing the perfect caterpillars for our special weekend in July. I can only pray that our newest butterflies will be as transformed as I have been because of how God intervenes during these three days."

Decolores,

From: Lay Director Boys' #48

When Dustin first called me, I thought he made a mistake, that I wasn't the right one for the job of lay director. But as I prayed about it, talked to my pastor, read the Basic Instructions Before Leaving Earth, I couldn't find any reason to say no. So after saying yes and picking up the team material, I set out to build His team. After a few day's of calling and getting a lot of "no's" I started getting pretty discouraged, so I prayed and told God I didn't know if He had the right person for the job. He told me if I just trust Him, He would build the team and take me along. So after He humbled me, I turned it over to Him and He did a great job of team building. We still have a few humps to get over every once in a while, but He does a great job of taking care of them. So now I don't worry or fret about "things", I just trust Him to take care of them and I know He has a great flight in store for everyone and I'm looking forward to being along for the ride.

Financial Help Needed

If you are in the position to make a financial donation to West Ohio Chrysalis, please consider the following project. The West Ohio Chrysalis Board in cooperation with Greene Street UMC and Greene Street Day Care will be installing a video projector, screen, and new sound system in the Conference room. The primary use will be for Chrysalis weekends (ie music, talks, etc.) Please send your donation to West Ohio Chrysalis at 415 W. Greene Street, Piqua, Oh 45356. Donors will have their name with Walk # listed in the Conference Room. This is a great opportunity to help Chrysalis improve the Conference Room.

Chrysalis invites you to the Springfield Emmaus Gathering on Sunday, August 9 at 7 p.m. It will be planned by the Chrysalis kids. It will be held at High Street UMC in Springfield. For more info please contact Dene Voorhees in Springfield.
